

Privacy Policy

Last updated: September 2020

We will make sure your privacy is protected. We will not retain your payment details or pass your information on to any other company or third party.

When you submit a query/request for information about our services you agree to automatically be added to our mailing list. We promise not to spam you with updates but let you know about information and services we believe are relevant to business. You can unsubscribe at any time by using the link in our mailing list email or you can contact us directly at admin@alcom.co.nz and ask to be removed.

Cookies Policy

Alcom Communications uses cookies on this website www.alcom.co.nz (the "Service"). By using the Service, you consent to the use of cookies.

Cookies are small pieces of text sent by your web browser by a website you visit. A cookie file is stored in your web browser and allows the Service or a third-party to recognize you and make your next visit easier and the Service more useful to you.

When you use and access our website, we may place a number of cookies files in your web browser. We use cookies for the following purposes: to enable certain functions of the Service, to provide analytics, to store your preferences, to enable advertisements delivery, including behavioural advertising.

In addition to our own cookies, we may also use various third-parties cookies to report usage statistics of the Service, deliver advertisements on and through the Service, and so on.

If you'd like to delete cookies or instruct your web browser to delete or refuse cookies, please visit the help pages of your web browser.

Please note, however, that if you delete cookies or refuse to accept them, you might not be able to use all of the features we offer, you may not be able to store your preferences, and some of our pages might not display properly.